executive ranges

The Executive / Management work environment is an epicenter of decisions that can change the fate of the company and the employees that believe in the management.

Executive products are developed with a function - orientated understanding with designs that add value to the image and status of the individual user.

The Executive ranges depicted are designed and developed for management, or intermediate managerial company positions. Secretarial workstations can be supplied to match the management workstations.

Included in each range are a series of pedestals, credenzas, pedenzas, servers, wall units and conference tables to complete the ranges.

The Envy Executive range has a strong identity, with a great aesthetic impact. The range creates a perfect balance between functionality and design, between elegance and technology.
